By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
GIBRALTAR (AP) — The British-Rhodesian conference ended Sunday night with no prospect of a settlement, but British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith agreed to consult their governments and keep in touch.

The four days of deadlocked summit talks ended with a joint statement saying "a very wide gulf still remains" between the British government and the white minority government which proclaimed the African territory's independence three years ago to preserve white rule.

The basis issue remains unresolved: Britain's demand for unimpeded progress toward rule of Rhodesia by the four million black Africans instead of by the 220,000 whites.

Smith's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain in November 1965 remains illegal as far as Britain is concerned. British and U.N. economic sanctions have weakened Rhodesia's thriving economy.

Smith is now committed to a new Rhodesian constitution that will push his nation toward South Africa and virtually exclude the possibility of a settlement with Britain.

The British terms again demanded constitutional arrangements to advance Rhodesia's black majority steadily to power, while Smith insisted once more that military rule cannot come to Rhodesia in the next 100 years.

Wilson also demanded constitutional guarantees to prevent an independent Rhodesian government from rescinding rights granted the blacks and immediate progress toward ending racial discrimination.

Says Wallace Will Carry 1st District

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Guy Newcomb of Osceola, the Republican candidate for Congress from the 1st District, says third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace will carry the 1st District Nov. 6 barring a drastic change.

"That's true because the people of the 1st District are fed up with the Johnson-Humphrey administration," Newcomb said.

Newcomb also reasoned that the election of his opponent, Bill Alexander of Osceola, would result in Arkansas' one vote going to Vice President Humphrey should the general election be thrown into the U.S. House of Representatives.

Newcomb said Alexander had signed a pledge to support all Democrats.

"If he doesn't choose to honor his pledge, if he chooses instead to vote for the man his first district votes for, he'll have to vote George Wallace, and that means Arkansas' one House vote could go to Hubert Humphrey," Newcomb told a news conference.

"As a Republican candidate, I didn't have to sign a pledge to support my party nominees," he said. "But I have talked to John Paul (Hammerschmidt, R-Ark.), and have agreed to cast our votes together to eliminate the possibility of Arkansas' vote meaning a Humphrey victory in the House of Representatives."

Newcomb said he would vote for Wallace on the first ballot and then switch to Richard Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee.

Newcomb said Alexander could not be an effective congressman "if he owes his election to a small group of men who stand to benefit personally from the way he casts his votes in Congress?"

Program to Restore U.S. Leadership

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer
FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — George C. Wallace has set forth his American Independent party platform which he says is designed to restore U.S. leadership abroad and provide relief at home from "turmoil, frustration and confusion."

The former Alabama governor said Sunday in San Francisco he would spend the last three weeks of his presidential campaign bringing the message of the 13,000-word platform to Americans.

In the platform, he asserted that the "root causes" of crime and disorder in the cities "are to be found in the apparent absence of respect for law... and the unexplainable compassion for the criminal evidenced by our executive and judicial officers and officials."

His program for cities calls for relocation of "those totally unfitted by training, background and environment for urban living who have been lured to the metropolitan areas by wholly false promises."

Wallace explained his platform before an audience of 10,000 that filled about two-thirds of San Francisco's Cow Palace and gave him an enthusiastic response.

The only dissent came from 300 noisy hecklers. There were no arrests.

Wallace then left for Fresno's rich valley farm area where about 150 waited in the rain for more than an hour Sunday night to greet his plane.

The platform says in its preamble it is designed to do two things:

- Return the nation "to its accustomed and deserved position of leadership" among nations.
- Offer Americans hope "of some relief from the continued turmoil, frustration and confusion brought about through the fearful and inept leadership of our national political parties."

The platform planks are nailed together with craftsmanship indicating a single carpenter—Wallace, who in previous speeches and interviews has taken the positions outlined. The pronoun "I" appears in several places. It states it was formulated before Wallace chose retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay for a running mate.

Some planks are specific—such as a proposal to provide under medicare "uninterrupted nursing home care for those with chronic illness who require such care."

Other planks are general—such as a call for selective decreases in federal spending and easing of the tax load on small-income citizens.

Platform proposals bearing on U.S. world prestige call for:

- Patience "to the extreme in seeking to end the (Vietnam) war through negotiations" but, if necessary, a military conclusion using conventional weapons.
- Denial of "aid and assistance to nations who oppose us militarily in Vietnam and elsewhere and those who give aid and comfort to our avowed enemies."
- Elimination in the Defense Department of those who foster a "no-win policy," install antiballistic missile defenses and reconstitute adequate reserve forces.

On domestic issues some recommendations are to:

- Reassign to state governments those powers the federal

New Hearing in Death Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Alabama Negro under death sentence for a series of store robberies was granted a hearing today by the Supreme Court.

The appeal of Edward Boykin, 28, argued that the death penalty is prohibited by the Eighth Amendment's ban on "cruel and unusual punishment."

Last term the Supreme Court said juries from which opponents of capital punishment have been automatically excluded cannot impose the death sentence. But the court did not rule out capital punishment itself.

Boykin pleaded guilty in 1966 to the robbery of five Mobile stores. He was to have been electrocuted last June, but the Alabama Supreme Court postponed execution until the U.S. Supreme Court acted on his petition.

government exercises in control of public schools, in voter qualifications for state and local elections, in farm controls and in fair-housing legislation.

- Appoint a tough attorney general and intensify prosecution of drug law and juvenile offenders.
- Oppose federal gun-registration laws.

The platform calls for a program to liberalize benefits from Social Security and medicare and offer tax relief.

It proposes a $100 monthly minimum Social Security benefit with current benefits increased 60 per cent and cost-of-living increases added annually. Increased old-age medical benefits are also proposed.

would."

Nixon said that third-party candidate George C. Wallace is running better than he had anticipated. He said he thought Wallace at this point would have 12 to 15 per cent of the potential vote, as measured by public opinion polls, instead of the 20 per cent or more currently being recorded.

"I think part of the reason for Wallace not going down," he said, "is that the Humphrey campaign hasn't caught on."

The candidate made a nationwide political speech over the CBS radio network Sunday night, discussing his view of Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"It's time we began paying Europe more attention," he said — after noting that President Johnson did not mention Europe in his January State of the Union message.

He said all the NATO partners should, at the very least, meet night for NATO defensive strength set before the Czech crisis.

listed men.

Between them, the Army and the Marine Corps account for about 80 per cent of the 540,500 American servicemen in Vietnam.

With a 50,000-man-a-month turnover, the Army and Marines have the biggest problem in maintaining a flow of key officers and noncoms to Southeast Asia.

The Air Force this year is sending only about 150 noncommissioned officers back to Vietnam on involuntary second tours.

A spokesman said the Air Force "has just now reached the point where in coming months it will become necessary to return some enlisted specialties for second tours."

The Navy said it does not expect to send any officers or enlisted men to Vietnam for involuntary second tours for the rest of this year, although last July about 230 Navy seaboys who had finished previous war tours earlier than 1966 were ordered to return.

TV Actress Succumbs to Lung Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bea Benaderet, matriarch of television's "Petticoat Junction," is dead at 62—the victim of pneumonia and lung cancer.

The blonde, brown-eyed actress was starring her sixth season playing Kate Bradley. She had filmed five episodes for the current run when she was forced to return to the hospital Sept. 26.

The vivacious performer underwent radiation treatment last year at the Stanford Medical Clinic in Palo Alto for a lung tumor.

Upon her release, Miss Benaderet told a newsmen, while recuperating at Palm Springs— "Every day is beautiful to me... I feel fine, better than I have felt in years."

She died Sunday in Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles. Prior to top casting as the quick-tongued matriarch in "Petticoat Junction," Hooterville, Miss Benaderet was Blanche Morton, wife of fastidious Harry Morton—next door neighbors in the long run of the "George Burns and Gracie Allen Show." In this part, she excelled in repartee.

Another vehicle, "The Beverly Hillbillies," featured her as cousin Pearl Bodine—mother of Jethro—in the first year of that show. Then the creator of the Hillbillies—Paul Henning—chose her as the operator of the Shady Rest Hotel in his "Petticoat Junction."

Much of her early success derived from her talent at dialect. She was a part of the vocal cast of the TV cartoon show, "The Flintstones," and played many other roles on radio and television.

She was Gertrude Gearshift, who spoke Brooklynese, telephone operator on the "Jack Benny Program"; Amber Lipscomb on "My Friend Irma"; the maid, Gloria, on "The Adventures of Ozzy and Harriet"; Eve Goodwin on "The Great

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ENOUGH TO MAKE HER TEAR HER HAIR — OR CUT IT

Dear Helen: My husband is an avid reader of your column. He says one of your correspondents gave him this idea, so I should take it up with the source.

I wanted to get my hair cut short and fluffy. My man was dead against it. The next day he suggested we put it to a family vote.

Being sure our daughters would vote for me, I said, "Fine." But the count came out: Four against my haircut, only one (me) for. I gave in.

Yesterday I heard our youngest telling a chum her Dad gave her a quarter to vote his way. Then I learned the older girls got a dollar each. (Cindy is only five and can be bribed cheaper!)

My husband thinks the whole thing is hilarious. He reminds me of the woman who complained in HHU that her husband paid his kids to tell her she looked terrible in mini-skirts—and I laughed then, he adds.

Okay, Helen, the least you can do is vote for my side. Shouldn't a woman have a right to wear her hair the way she wants it?

HOPEFUL PIXIE

Dear Pixie: She certainly should! Your big mistake: You asked instead of acted. Your husband, if he runs true to form won't mind the fluffy cut once he gets used to it, though he'll never, but NEVER, say he likes short hair on women. I think this aversion must date back to caveman days: While men seldom yank mink around by her mane any more, he probably likes to feel he COULD, if he need arose.

—H.

P.S. Besides, your haircut will serve him right! —H.

Dear Helen: Your answer to "Kept Under Wraps" was mild and generous, but I wonder if you understood what he was trying to tell you. Here's a lad who states that he's a moral, intelligent, serious boy. His only hang-up is that he prefers going nude "as God made him." We infer that he has a good upbringing. Is it likely then that he would "forget" and go outside in the buff? When his parents weren't home, of course.

My theory is that he has tried to live up to his parents' standards, but now he's growing up and wanting to live his own life. But he is stymied by their power over him. If they're away, he can run outside; if he were old enough (as he says) he would join a nudist camp.

He says those who look on nudity as a sin are filled with depraved thoughts. He includes his parents by inference, as they are "shocked." Is it their thoughts that he worries about? Maybe it's really his own. After all, he wrote to you. Perhaps he wanted you to tell him that his thoughts are not depraved, even though he likes to go bare.

Why does he need your approval? Why does he have to profess that he has very high moral standards? Because he's unsure of himself, and he's afraid of being independent. You suggested that he wear a pair of shorts. Wouldn't it help him more to assure him that he needn't feel guilty about his thoughts and feelings — it's right that he natural and good to have them. He wants to "take the wraps off," and it's right that he should, at his age. But literally taking them off is only symbolic. As he matures, he'll find that knowing and understanding his feelings will be more satisfactory emotionally. He wants to be a man.—I say, "All power to him!" Mrs. M.W.

Dear Mrs. W: You could be right. It's an excellent psychological theory anyway. Now, it remains for "Kept Under Wraps" to let us know whether you've unwrapped the "real him." —H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Weekend television was dominated by a space shot and sports—two areas the medium handles with the expertise that comes from long practice and meticulous planning.

Friday's coverage of the Apollo 7 launching went as smoothly for the three television networks as it did for the astronauts. As usual there were the shots of the astronauts going into the spacecraft; the illustrations and simulations of what was going on, and then, too, a little suspense as reports came in about the increasing wind velocity which might cause a change of plans.

There were those tense, tight minutes near the end of the countdown. Viewers really start breathing normally again only after the rocket is out of sight and those dry, unemotional words, "It's good," are heard from the control center.

ABC started its coverage of the Olympic Games with a two-hour broadcast of the opening ceremonies in the Mexico City stadium on Saturday afternoon.

That was a TV natural—a big, colorful international parade. One of the most moving moments came with the spontaneous and especially warm reception given to the Czechoslovak athletes.

The network had a tougher problem on its hands Sunday when, in one hour's time, it tried to cover, partly live and partly on tape, a few of the many events of the day.

Live coverage was given the running of the finals of the 10,000-meter race, a long affair that became exciting only during the final few laps. The network broke into the middle of it

Common Cold Hits Space Astronauts

By JOHN BARBOUR

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Doctors again are facing their old nemesis—the common cold—this time in space. And they're not happy about it.

Usually before a launch, astronauts are kept under wraps, their activity limited to the ready room, their meetings with others held to a minimum.

Not so the Apollo 7 trio. They ranged over the Cape Kennedy area. Walter Cunningham went water-skiing. Command Pilot Walter M. Schirra Jr. went hunting. Somewhere along the line they met a cold virus.

Space doctors aren't certain, but they figure Cunningham picked it up somewhere, passed it on to Donn F. Elsie, and it spread then to Schirra who took it into space, and nursed it these last three days.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief astronaut physician, guesses that will be the end of it. Cunningham and Elsie should have some immunity left from their pre-launch bouts with the cold virus.

"Of course," that all assumes they had the same virus. If they didn't, Schirra's cold could spread to the other two, but the odds are not great, and doctors are not worried even if it does. It shouldn't interfere with the flight.

Schirra's cold is already clearing up, he reported Sunday. Doctors were more worried over a shortage of decongestant pills in the spacecraft medicine chest than they were over anything else. There were only 24 to start with, and five of them went early with Schirra's cold and Cunningham's stuffy nose caused by the oxygen atmosphere. Doctors cut Schirra's dosage from the recommended one every six hours to one every eight.

Three pills are reserved for the last day, one for each astronaut. These are to insure that the astronauts have clear heads when they begin their descent to earth.

That's to forestall the kind of earaches that airline passengers get during landing. With the downward plunge of a spacecraft it can be much worse.

The Apollo 7 cabin carries a pressure of five pounds per square inch, equal to air pressure at 27,500 feet.

President Eisenhower Is 78 Today

By FRANK CAREY

AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned 78 today, celebrating along with a nation that will honor him throughout the week.

The five-star general, still a patient at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital, has been rated as having made a "miraculous" comeback so far from a mid-August heart attack—perhaps the worst of seven he's suffered since 1955.

The word "miraculous" was used recently by Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the army surgeon general, to describe Eisenhower's recovery.

There was no advance word on any birthday celebration plans at the hospital itself where Eisenhower, for some time now, has been allowed to sit up in a chair for about a half hour several times a day.

But, in effect, the country began celebrating the old warrior's birthday Sunday—the beginning of "America's Salute to Eisenhower Week," as proclaimed by President Johnson Sept. 14.

President Johnson, on the day he issued the proclamation, said America "has always spoken with one voice and affection for a beloved leader"—Eisenhower, "Dwight David Eisenhower," he said, "led us bravely in war. He served us devotedly and well in peace."

"Always he committed the gifts of his heart and the wisdom of his leadership to the strength of America's unity. Throughout his lifetime of duty, he has shown us the qualities that we admire most in our fellow man, the qualities of greatness that run deep in the spirit and the history of America—honor, courage, compassion, integrity."

Johnson paid another tribute to Eisenhower Sunday when he signed a bill—"on behalf of a grateful nation"—authorizing up to $5 million in matching grants to Eisenhower College in Seneca Falls, N.Y.

The liberal arts school was founded in 1965 as a living memorial to the former chief executive.

Would you like to add glamor to your hairdo by putting in a few frosted streaks without resorting to messy sprays or cumbersome kits? Here's a do-it-yourself mini-hairpiece: Buy several strands of natural or synthetic blond or silver hair of approximately the same length as your own hair. Separate that into five or six strands and fasten them tightly to the teeth of a small hair comb. After having teased your own hair, anchor the hairpiece securely on top of the head. Quickly brush, blending in the streaks into your hair, achieving a lovely effect. You can reuse the hairpiece many times.

We tend to think of epidemics as characteristic of the Dark Ages, but the global influenza of 1918 was one of the most costly in history. It killed 21 million people throughout the world, more than 500,000 in the United States.

Miss Neal Very Happy, Relieved

NEW YORK (AP) — Surrounded by old friends from show business, a "very happy, and relieved" Patricia Neal watched Sunday night the first movie she's made since she suffered two crippling strokes almost four years ago.

"I'm just delighted," she said as she arrived for the premiere of the film version of "The Subject Was Roses," Frank D. Gilroy's Pulitzer Prize winning play.

Several hundred motion picture and stage stars turned out to applaud Miss Neal at the premiere and to toast her at a post-opening party at Sardi's.

Miss Neal, 42, was stricken in February 1965, while filming in Hollywood. The two strokes left the Academy Award-winning actress partially paralyzed and unable to speak.

"When the producer and director came to me and asked me to do the film, I didn't think I could," said Miss Neal Sunday night. "But my husband thought I could," she added, looking at Road Dahl, the British mystery writer to whom she has been married for more than 15 years and the person she credits with encouraging her recovery.

The movie tells the story of an Irish-American family in the Bronx just after World War II.

Starr Hurt, Rams Drop Green Bay

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bart Starr hurt himself and the Green Bay Packers by warming up the regular way. Maybe he should have tried Sonny Jurgensen's method.

Starr pulled a muscle in his passing arm while warming up Sunday and then stood on the sidelines as the Packers lost 16-14 to the unbeaten Los Angeles Rams for their third defeat in five National Football League games.

Jurgensen, weakened by a severe cold, leapt in a storage room for two hours before the game, then went out and threw two touchdown passes in leading the Washington Redskins to a 16-13 victory over Pittsburgh, 0-5.

The victory lifted the Redskins above the .500 mark at 3-2 and moved them to within a game of the New York Giants in the Capital Division.

The Giants, 4-1, fell out of a first-place tie with Dallas by being upset 24-21 by Atlanta, 1-4, while the Cowboys were trouncing Philadelphia, 0-5, 34-14.

Los Angeles, by boosting its record to 5-0, kept pace in the Coastal Division with the Baltimore Colts who smashed San Francisco 42-14.

In other NFL action, Detroit moved into a tie for the Central Division lead at 3-2 with Minnesota by downing Chicago, 1-4, 28-19 as Minnesota was upset by New Orleans 20-17 and St. Louis beat Cleveland 27-21.

New Orleans, Cleveland and St. Louis share the Century Division lead with 2-3 records.

In the American Football League Sunday, Denver upset the New York Jets 21-13, San Diego surprised Oakland 23-14, Kansas City topped Cincinnati 13-3 and Houston blanked Boston 16-0. Buffalo and Miami tied 14-14 Saturday night.

Bruce Gossett's 27-yard field goal, his third of the game, came four plays after Packer corner back Herb Adderley was called for interference against Jack Snow, giving the Rams a first down on the Green Bay 25.

One of three interceptions against Zeke Bratkowski, Starr's replacement set up Los Angeles' touchdown in the third period. Willie Ellison scored it from the one. Donnie Anderson ran four yards for a Packer score in the second period and Tom Brown put Green Bay ahead 14-13 by returning a punt 52 yards.

Jurgensen threw a 17-yard scoring strike to Jerry Smith in the opening period, and, then with the Redskins trailing Pittsburgh 10-9 in the third period, he escaped being tackled in the end zone to launch a 96-yard drive which he climaxed with a 49-yard pass to Smith.

Atlanta got its upset of the Giants when Lee Calland intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass in the end zone with 1:16 left. The pass came on a third-and-one foot situation on the Atlanta 12. Tarkenton did throw three touchdown passes but they could not offset three Atlanta scores on runs and a field goal by Bob Etter.

Earl Morrill hit two scoring strikes for Baltimore and John Unitas, making his first appearance of the season, threw one. Preston Pearson got the Colts started by returning the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Mel Farr rambled for 138 yards, caught six passes for 72 more and scored three touch-

Two Medals Handed Out in Olympics

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Americans were blanked, breathless but far from beaten after the first day's competition in the 19th Olympic Games.

Naili Temu of Kenya won the lung-bursting 10,000-meter run—a drama-spiked race that left veteran Ron Clarke unconscious—and Mohammed Nasiri of Iran set a world record in taking the bantamweight weightlifting title.

Those were the only two gold medals handed out on Sunday and the United States was not a factor in either of them.

But the U.S. track team gave notice that it would, along with Russia, be the dominant force in these troubled Games, marred on opening day by a soccer fight, illness and high-altitude drop outs.

Temu, a slight 23-year-old, out-dueled Mamo Wolde of Ethiopia in the stretch and won in the relatively slow time of 29:27.4. Mohammed Gamoudi of Tunisia was third and Juan Martinez of Mexico, who had led most of the way, was fourth.

Clarke, holder of 17 world records but never a winner in the Olympics, was second with three laps to go, but faded back in the 7,347-foot altitude.

It was at that point that Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, another veteran, dropped out. With three laps remaining, he pulled into the infield, lay down for a second, then got up and finished.

Tracy Smith of Arcadia, Calif., was the best American, finishing 11th. Billy Mills, who scored a surprise victory for the U.S. squad in the 1964 Olympics, did not qualify to defend his title.

Clarke collapsed, was unconscious and had to be given oxygen after finishing and was suffering from double vision and lack of concentration.

Nassiri, of Iran, did a backflip on stage after winning the gold in weight-lifting. He bettered the world record in the jerk with 330.3 pounds and had an Olympic record total of 810 pounds.

Foldi Imre of Hungary took the silver medal and Henryk Trebicki of Tunisia the bronze.

The United States had to be content with a strong showing in some preliminary events, a basketball victory and a 49 flat 400-meter hurdle mark by Ron Whitney of Boulder, Colo., bettering the listed world mark.

There was one major disappointment—a fifth-place finish in a heat by Harvard's eight-oared crew, which puts them in the repechages.

Geoff Vanderstock of Los Angeles finished second in his heat of the 400-meter hurdles and qualified for the next round.

The United States qualified a full complement of three through two rounds of the 100 meters, led by Charlie Green's wind-aided 10 flat, and put three more in the finals of the shot put topped by Roney Matson's 57-10.1, toss, topping the Olym-

Porkers Roll Over Baylor 35-19

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Frank Broyles was watching the replay of Arkansas' 35-19 victory over Baylor.

The Razorbacks, leading 21-19, had taken over on their own 20. They faced a stiff wind and a Baylor team which had momentum.

"This is something that can tell you what you've got," he said. He then watched the Razorbacks, guided by poised sophomore quarterback Bill Montgomery, cover the 80s yards in 17 plays for a touchdown that clinched their second Southwest Conference victory in a row.

Montgomery completed 22 of 34 passes for 260 yards. No passer has thrown for 260 yards in a winning game in Broyles' 11 years at Arkansas, nor completed more passes in one afternoon.

"This is a great offense," Broyles said. "and we haven't learned it yet. Bill is making good progress, but I don't think a sophomore can learn it in one year."

Basior coach John Bridgers said after the game that he thought the Bears could move the football on the Razorbacks. They did, from early in second period until midway through the fourth quarter.

Pinky Palmer and Gene Rogers broke clean often on trap plays and gained more than 200 yards between them.

"When a team gets two runners going good, like Palmer and Rogers were for them, and (Steve) Stuart threads the needle, and they mix it up, it's like a pitcher suddenly adding a good curve to his good fast ball," Broyles said. "He's got something."

"Baylor made us do some things that we weren't ready to do," Broyles said. "We had defensive breakdowns. We are very light and pretty beat-up. Baylor blocked well, and their quarterback came in with a hot hand."

Stuart replaced Alvin Flynn after Arkansas had built up a 21-0 lead on Gary Adams' 79-yard punt return and drives of 92 and 47 yards following an intercepted pass and a fumble recovery.

"Every football coach knows the danger of getting some easy touchdowns," Broyles said. "The first thing you know it's one heckuva ball game. They put it all together in the second and third quarters."

The Arkansas defense gave up three touchdowns, but halted two important extra point attempts.

Gary Parsons, a 6-foot-9 sophomore, broke through to block Terry Cozby's conversion kick after the Bears' second touchdown. That forced Baylor to go for two points after Stuart's one-yard sneak in the fourth period made it 21-19. Terry Stewart deflected Stuart's pass for two.

From then on, it was all Arkansas.

Montgomery completed four passes, two on big third downs, for 54 yards in the 80-yard drive.

Next, it's Texas at Austin. "There is great pride and tradition on both sides," Broyles said. "It's the kind of football game every player looks forward to playing."

pic record. He made only the one throw.

George Woods and Eve Maggard also qualified.

Willie White and Martha Watson qualified for the women's long jumps finals, but were back in the pack. Miss White seventh and Miss Watson tied Tom Farrell was second in his 800-meter heat to qualify for the finals, along with Ron Kutschinski.

In rowing, the U.S. coxless pairs won their heat, while the coxed pairs and coxed fours also reached the semis after second and third-place finishes, respectively.

A rash of illness was reported on the Harvard eight, perhaps accounting for its poor showing, and Bill Maher, Detroit, a member of the double sculls collapsed after he and John Munn won their heat. He was taken to the infirmary for rest and is expected to be ready for their competition.

The U.S. basketball team scored an 81-46 first-round victory over Spain while Russia won its first game, beating Poland 91-50.

Bobcats Rally to Defeat Washington

By RALPH ROULTON
Star Sports Writer

Rallying for two second half touchdowns behind the usual tough defense, the Hope Bobcats rolled to their second win of the year by trouncing Texarkana Washington Lions 20-6 at Buhrman Field in Texarkana Saturday night.

An underdog entering the game, the Bobcats never trailed as they scored in every quarter but the second. The win evened Hope's 4-4A Western Division record to 1-1, and the Cats are now 2-3-1 overall. Texarkana Washington is now 0-4 in conference play, but they did score their first six points against any district team.

After leading in total offense by the margin of 61 to 54 yards at halftime, the Bobcats rolled up 168 more in the second half while holding the Lions to only nine yards. Looking closer, the statistics show that Texarkana Washington was even held to minus nine yards on the ground in the last two periods by the aroused Bobcat defense.

It only took the Bobcats 50 seconds to get up on the board, even though Texarkana Washington received the opening kickoff. After taking over at their own 12, the Lions ran two plays for no yardage. On third down quarterback Ricky Jones threw a quick pass to end Leroy Haley, but Bobcat linebacker Larry McWilliams stepped in front of the pass and intercepted.

McWilliams had clear sailing for the 20 yards into the end zone for the first touchdown of his career, and Ronny Brown's conversion made it 7-0 with 11:10 showing in the first period.

Taking the ensuing kickoff was Leroy Haley, and he sailed 20 yards to the Texarkana Washington 36 before he fumbled after being hit hard. The Bobcats jumped on the bobbie at the enemy 40-yard line, and set off on a drive.

Three gains picked up a first down at the 28, then Larry Massanelli went for 11 yards to the 17 on a third and ten situation.

On first down Jerry McWilliams broke away on a split back for a 44-yard score, but a clipping call nullified it. Using Mickey Allen for the first time this year at fullback, Hope ran off a first down to the 30 before a six-yard loss eventually caused the Bobcats to be held on downs.

Now Texarkana Washington started their only offensive of the game, grinding out four straight first downs after starting at the 26. Finally the Hope defense stiffened and held at the Bobcat 14, but not before a real scare with 4:02 left in the half.

Quickly the Bobcats had to punt from the twenty, but this time David Still got off the longest kick of the season. It went 55 yards to the TW 25 with no return, and safely got the Bobcats out of a hole for the remainder of the half as the score stayed 7-6.

Taking the second half kickoff, the Bobcats set up camp at the 38. On first down, though, the line opened a gigantic hole off tackle for Rodney Jones, and he broke clean for 20 yards to the TW 42. Once again, though, the Bobcats were held on downs, this time at the 24. The Lions fumbled it back at the 31 two plays later, and this time it looked like Hope would score.

On a fourth down play, however a quickie pass to John Kemp failed to pick up a first down at the TW eight. Once more the Lions fumbled on first down, and Jim Singleton recovered the crucial bobbie at the 12. Two rushes gathered in a first and goal at the two, and quickly it was Jerry McWilliams going over for the TD. Since Brown was injured, Gary Jones had to kick the PAT, and the boot was barely missed.

So the Bobcats led 13-6 with 4:43 left in the third period, and now the defense really got stingy. Texarkana Washington never came close to scoring range from then on, and the Bobcats were continually within striking distance. The final offensive seemed to be stalled very late in the game with a 4th and 12 at the Lion 31-yard line.

It turned out to be a sustained 66-yard drive, when Larry Massanelli fired a 31-yard strike to John Kemp in the end zone for the final score. Massanelli then threw to Rodney Jones for the extra point, and with 1:25 left in the game Hope led 20-6.

Jerry McWilliams led all rushers for the Bobcats with 66 yards on 20 tries, followed closely by Rodney Jones' 48 yards on six trips. Mike Monroe gathered 24 yards on nine tries, and Massanelli's four carries netted him 16 yards. Next came Gary Wheelington, who ran five times for 14 yards, and Mickey Allen and Sidney Waller both picked up 8 yards on two attempts.

Kemp was the only Bobcat to catch a pass all night, and he caught three aerials for 45 yards. On defense the Bobcats looked good once again, with fine performances by Mickey Allen, Jim Singleton, Jim Alford, Mike McQueen, and Larry McWilliams in the line. The secondary also did well in holding Texarkana Washington to three completions for 36 yards.

So now the Bobcats look to Friday night and homecoming with the unbeaten Fairview Cardinals, now 6-0 and ranked 7th in the state. Last year Hope was 3-4 and Fairview 5-1, and the Bobcats fought hard before falling 27-19. This one could be very interesting, so put in the Friday night contest at 7:30 p.m. on your agenda, and we'll see you there.

Tonight the "B" Lizards put their 2-2 mark on the line at Prescott, in a ball game to start at 7:00 p.m. Last week the "B" squad lost to Camden 27-6, but they should be hopping to get a chance with Prescott, against whom we always do well. Remember the 7 o'clock kickoff, which is a departure from the usual 7:30 starting time.

Athletes Do Well at SS College

MAGNOLIA — Two Hope athletes are playing important roles in the Southern State College football program this fall.

They are Gary Golden, left, 6-0, 190-pound freshman tackle, and Harry Ray McMahan, 6-3, 225-pound senior tackle.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McMahan of Hope and a 1965 graduate of Hope High School, McMahan has been a starter for the Mulierder the last four years. Switched from defense to offense this spring, McMahan is a key man in the offensive wall front of the Mulierders as they seek the AIC title this fall.

He is a business-agriculture major and a member of the S-Club, lettermen's organization, Tri-C, business and commerce club, and the Agriculture Club. Golden, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Golden of Hope, is one of several outstanding freshmen providing the necessary depth for Auburn Smith's Riders. He is a 1968 graduate of Hope High School and is majoring in business agriculture at SSC.

Southern State established a 2-2 record in first four outings this season, defeating Southeastern Oklahoma and Harding College but losing to Livingston (Ala.) University and Mississippi College. The Mulierders' next game is homecoming Oct. 26 when they host the Bears of State College of Arkansas.

Daylight Time ends the last Sunday in October, which means you'll have to be more careful dodging cars in the evening hours rather than on the way to work.

Yerger Rolls Over McRae High 38-0

By ARTHUR MAXWELL
BEN PERKINS

The Yerger Tigers remained undefeated as they humiliated the McRae Tigers by a score of 38-0. The Tigers kicked off to open the game. McRae got the ball on the 20 yard line and had a five yard return. So they had first and ten on their 25 yard line. McRae ran two downs and had 3 and 8 on their 27. On the next play cornerback Frank Prater intercepted a McRae pass and returned it to the one. The Tigers were unable to reach paydirt because of two 15 yard penalties. So they had to give up the ball on the 31.

From there it was a seesaw battle, until tailback Horace Johnson ran 5 yards for a Yerger score. The extra point attempt failed so the score was 6-0 Yerger.

Early in the second period the Tigers scored again, when safety, Jerry Johnson intercepted a pass and returned it 46 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was good making the score 13-0 Yerger.

The Tigers forced McRae to punt on the next series of downs, and Horace Johnson fielded the ball on his 35 yard line and ran 63 yards around end for the touchdown. The extra point was good, so the score then read Yerger 20-McRae 0.

From then to the end of the first half it was total defense. The opening kickoff of the second half was returned 80 yards for another Yerger score as Horace Johnson and Estelle Hendrix teamed up for a reverse around left end. The PAT failed, so the score was Yerger 26-McRae 0.

Late in the third period the Tigers struck once again when quarterback David Block tossed a 20 yard scoring strike to end Thomas Garland for another score. The PAT was no good making 32-0 Yerger.

Early in the 4th period halfback Artis Martin ran through McRae's defense for a first down. On the next play from scrimmage, halfback Artis Martin carried for 30 yards and another Yerger score. The PAT was not good so the final score read Yerger 38-McRae 0.

The Tigers defense once again played an important part in their victory. Here's how they fared: Tackles: David Benton, 9; Christopher Hindman, 7; Louis

Sharp, 7; Ronald Moses, 7; Richard Carter, 6; Robert Baker, 6; Calvin Shaw, 6; Lee David, 6; Jerry Johnson, 5; Jesse Henry, 5; Ira Isley, 5; Frank Prater, 4; Sammie Austin, 4; Donald Scott, 4; Hiram Reynolds, 4; Vander Lloyd, 3.

Fumbles: Richard Carter, 1. Interceptions: Lee Davis, 2; Jerry Johnson, 1; Frank Prater, 2.

Artis Martin led all rushers with 144 yards and 6 points. Second was Horace Johnson with 119 yards and 20 points. Jerry Johnson snared 3 passes good for 93 yards.

The Tigers will return home Saturday night to play Texarkana Washington High. The Tigers will be shooting for their fifth victory without a defeat, so come on out to Hammons Stadium Saturday night October 19 to see the Tigers.

Golden Lions Explode in Final Half

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas AM&N's Golden Lions held without a touchdown for the first half, exploded for three TDs in the final quarter to grab a 24-14 victory over Southern University Saturday night.

Southern held a 7-3 advantage at the half on the strength of an 87-yard screen pass from Joseph Williams to Louis Porter in the first quarter. Jimmy Bankston had kicked a 30-yard field goal for AM&N.

AM&N then scored on Robert Jones' seven-yard scamper, Marvin Anderson's three-yard plunge and James White's four-yard burst.

Robert Bennett scored Southern's other TD on a two-yard sneak.

Purdue, LSU Beaten in Big Upsets

By SHEILA MORAN

Associated Press Sports Writer Northwestern knows how it feels to play the top teams in college football. Saturday it gets a whack at Ohio State which just might be the best.

In four starts, the winless Wildcats have lost to Purdue, No. 1; Southern California, No. 2; Notre Dame, No. 5, and tough but unranked Miami of Florida.

Besides reshuffling the Top Ten rankings, Ohio State boosted its chances for its first national championship in 14 years by surprising unbeaten Purdue 13-0. Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes called it the greatest defensive effort he had ever seen.

Purdue was a two-touchdown favorite to beat Ohio State, which went into the game ranked No. 4.

The only other Top Ten teams to lose over the weekend were eighth-ranked LSU, shut out by Miami of Florida 30-0 Friday night, and ninth-ranked Nebraska, which lost to sixth-ranked Kansas 23-13.

Purdue meets Wake Forest Saturday in what must be regarded as a breather for the Bollermakers' one-two punch of quarterback Mike Phipps and halfback Leroy Keyes.

The Phipps-Keyes combination had their problems against Ohio State, however. Keyes, an All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate, managed only 19 yards on seven carries and Phipps hit only 10 of 28 passes.

The play of Buckeye sophomore cornerback John Tatum was described by Hayes as "out of this world." Tatum spilled Phipps twice for big losses and helped provide the pass coverage that kept the ball out of Keyes' hands most of the day.

Interceptions brought both State touchdowns. Ted Provost grabbed a Phipps pass 72 seconds into the final half and ran 34 yards for a score. And reserve quarterback Bill Long ran 14 yards for a touchdown late in the quarter after middle guard Jim Stillwagon intercepted a Phipps pass at the Purdue 26.

Southern Cal needed O. J. Simpson's three touchdowns and a late field goal to edge Stanford 27-24.

Penn State, No. 3, which tripped UCLA 21-8 to keep its unbeaten record, has an open date.

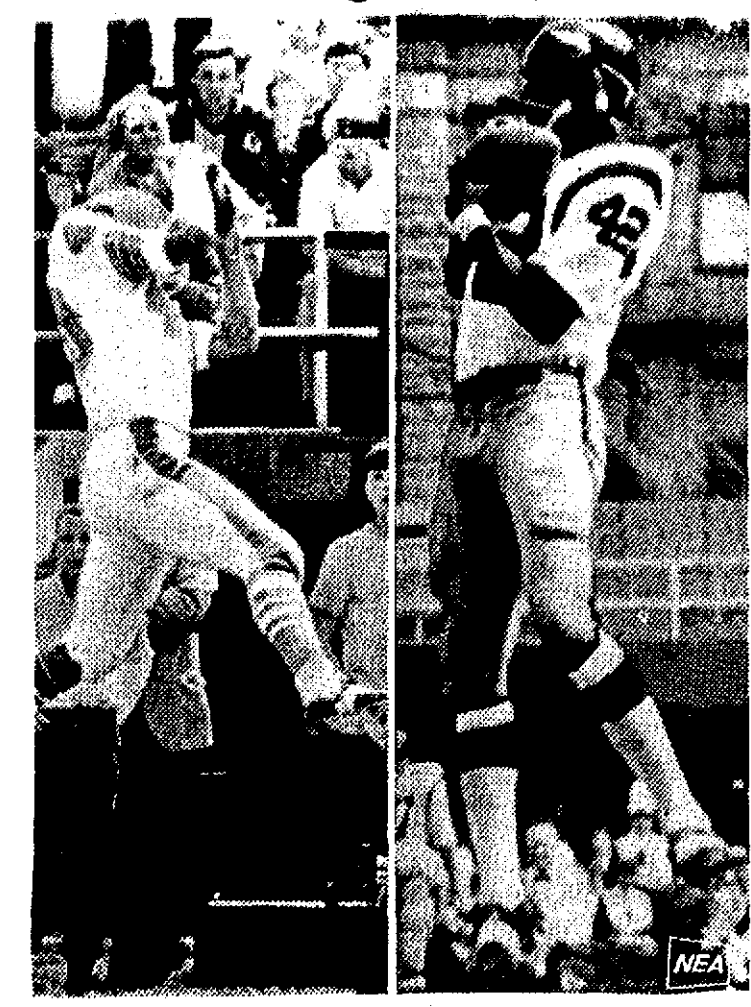

In the key Big Eight game, Kansas needed two touchdowns in the last five minutes to beat Nebraska. Quarterback Bobby Douglass capped a 73-yard drive on a one-yard plunge with 4:09 left and then raced 10 yards with 1:11 remaining.

Notre Dame held only a 7-0 lead against Northwestern at the half but Bob Gladioux ran for two second-half scores and Terry Hanratty threw for one as the Irish wore down their plucky opponents 27-7.

In other Top Ten action, seventh-ranked Florida beat Tulane 24-3 and Tennessee bested Georgia Tech 24-7.

Upsets abounded in the Second Team. Houston, No. 11, lost to Oklahoma State 21-17; Michigan State, No. 12, was beaten by Michigan 28-14; Mississippi, No. 13, lost to Georgia, No. 17, 21-7; California, No. 16, lost to Army and Kentucky defeated Oregon State, No. 20, 35-34.

Hamilton Guides State to Victory

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Freshmen quarterback James Hamilton guided the Arkansas State Indians to two touchdowns as the Indians tripped Southeastern Louisiana 17-7 Saturday night in a nonconference football game.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Indians, ranked 11th in The Associated Press small college poll.

Tailback Frank McGuigan provided the horsepower for the Indians, carrying 34 times for 148 yards. He also scored both of ASU's touchdowns on short plunges.

Hamilton's 14-yard pass to Calvin Harrell set up McGuigan's first score. Hamilton again connected for 31 yards with Harrell on a 60-yard drive climaxed by McGuigan's dive from a yard out.

Bobby Gentry booted a 30-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to round out the Indians' scoring.

Southeastern Louisiana finally scored in the fourth quarter on a one-yard run by quarterback Dan Brewer to cap a 75-yard march. Brewer passed to Sonny Fletcher for 30 yards to keep the drive going.

ASU, 4-1 for the season, begins practice today for its Southland Conference opener against Trinity Saturday in Little Rock.

Johnson Is Critical of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the capital today after ending a Texas weekend the way it began — criticizing Congress.

Reluctantly signing a bill providing a one-year extension for government subsidies for merchant vessels built in U.S. shipyards, Johnson lamented Sunday that Congress had not adopted his plans to restructure and revitalize U.S. merchant marine policy.

After more than 30 years of subsidy, Johnson said, "the United States finds itself with an outmoded merchant fleet whose survival is almost wholly dependent on continued and ever-increasing federal support."

He decried "piecemeal legislation" in this field and called on the next Congress "to get on

AIC Contest Like Scrip in Hollywood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas State Teachers College is no more, but it will still be Teachers' vs. Tech Saturday night at Conway when Arkansas Tech and State College of Arkansas get together.

Even when one team is highly favored, it's one of those wild unpredictable affairs.

The fact that both are unbeaten adds the little touch that would be dreamed up by a Hollywood scrip writer.

Consider, the series for the past 10 years:

1958—SCA upset a heavily favored Eddie Meador-led Tech 27-0.

1959—SCA, a strong favorite, eked out a 14-12 decision.

1960—Tech upset favored SCA 3-0-4.

1961—Tech upset SCA 16-7.

1962—SCA upset favored Tech 14-7.

1963—Tech, a slight favorite, was tied 7-7.

1964—SCA, given the edge at home, was beaten 14-7.

1965—Tech, a strong favorite, led 23-7 in the middle of the third quarter and got beat 28-23.

1966—Winless Tech led favored SCA 26-0 and won 26-21.

1967—Tech, a favorite at home, was upset 17-7.

As they say, you can throw the records away in this one. Arkansas A&M and Harding, both winless in the AIC, will be battling Saturday at Searcy to leave the cellar.

The two Arkadelphia teams, Quachita and Henderson, play out of state. Quachita is at Mill-Florence, Ala.

bombing.

Clark, a millionaire lawyer twice-divorced and recently remarried, insists he's "a man who owns his own soul . . . with guts enough to tell it like it is."

In this vein he says frankly that the Democrats are in trouble in Pennsylvania, that they must carry Philadelphia by at least 250,000 to win the state. His 1962 margin in his hometown was 180,000; it was 171,000 in 1956.

Again and again, in face-to-face television debate with Schwelker—they've already met three times with one more go-time reversing Republican top-of-the-ticket trends.

Republican challenger Richard S. Schwelker is a youthful, more photogenic (for television, anyway) four-term Congressman from the middle-class, white-collar Philadelphia suburbs.

Clark, 67, is the dove. The former Philadelphia mayor proudly dates his opposition to the Vietnam fighting back to 1965 when it was an unpopular position. Now, he says, other politicians are hollering "me too."

Schwelker, 42, supports generally the present American war policy, including the limited with the vital task we have placed before it" to launch a completely new maritime program.

The bill was one of 25 Johnson signed over the weekend. One of them was a farm bill he signed during the flight to Texas Friday and which prompted him to accuse Congress of sweeping farm problems under the rug.

The President, his daughter, Luci Nugent, and 16-month-old grandson, Lyn, went to Texas Friday night after a visit to former President Harry S. Truman in Independence, Mo.

Mrs. Johnson had remained in Washington, with the Johnsons' older daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Robb, who is expecting her first baby late this month.

GYROCRAFT may be the latest sports craze to take California by storm. A few years ago it was go-karts; then surfing and skydiving zoomed to mass popularity. Now, it looks as though gyrocraft may be coming into their own. Gyroplanes, left, utilize a small motor-driven propeller to create the wind necessary to activate the overhead blade, differing from a helicopter on which the blade is motor-driven. Gyrogliders, right, must be towed such as this one flying behind a truck. If the rope should break, the blade would continue spinning until the glider reached the ground safely.

Jim: "How did you manage to beat South two tricks at his two-heart contract? Did he revoke?"

Oswald: "He didn't revoke but he made a play that was almost as bad when I gave him a chance on the theory that any time you give a man a chance to make a mistake, he may do so. He won the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds, led a club and won the trick with the ace after I played the queen. Midge Cutler of Dallas, who was West, played the seven. Now see if you can work out the rest of the play."

Jim: "South must have played the three of trumps. Midge would go up with the ace and lead her three of clubs. You would take your king and give her a ruff. You would play your deuce as a suit preference signal to get her to play another diamond. You would ruff dummy's king and lead a spade to Midge's ace. She would play her 10 of diamonds and declarer would be down one. Now where did you get another trick? Don't tell me! You must have ruffed her trick and led the 10 of spades. Right?"

Oswald: "Right. South had shown up with three clubs and it looked as if he was going to show up with three diamonds. If he held five trumps, he would only hold two spades and we weren't going to get another trick in any event. If he only held four trumps, he would have three spades and Midge would only have two. If her other spade were the queen, his only normal play would be to lead his low spade to dummy's king, whereupon her queen would drop. So I ruffed my partner's trick and led the 10 of spades."

Jim: "As you pointed out, South should not have covered your 10 with his jack. If you held the queen of spades, you would not have gone out of your way to end-play yourself by ruffing her trick."

THE WELL CHILD

Child Is the Sufferer When Parents Squabble

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Children have the best chance to develop happy dispositions and pleasing personalities when they have two loving parents to guide them. In spite of the emphasis this fact has received in recent years, too many children must still grow up in broken homes. Nothing is more frightening to a child than to be exposed to quarreling by his parents because in each parent he sees the model he would like to copy or later marry. The squabbling threatens not only to disrupt his home but also gives him a confused image of what he should be.

Loss of appetite, depression, tantrums and even peptic ulcers are not uncommon in the offspring of battling parents. When the break does come, the damage is compounded if either parent tries to get the child to take sides. Such a maneuver on the part of a parent is both selfish and cruel because it uses the child as a means of getting revenge on one's former spouse. Furthermore, such behavior is likely in the long run to be self-defeating. The child often develops a deep sympathy for the parent who appears to be the underdog. Although divided custody almost always fails, limited visiting privileges should be encouraged unless they can be shown to be emotionally upsetting to the child.

but the younger had one recently. Although we keep anticonvulsion pills, aspirin and phenobarbital handy, he goes into a convulsion so fast that the pills don't have time to prevent the spell. At what age should he outgrow this?

A—There are many causes for convulsions. Those due to a high fever are usually outgrown at about age 6. They almost never occur after the first day of the fever. If they persist after age 7, your doctor should determine the cause and treat it.

Q—My son, 3, had an epileptic fit two months ago. Could this have been caused by the jaundice he had as a newborn or by the circumcision performed eight days before the seizure?

A—Neither circumstance would cause epilepsy. True epilepsy rarely occurs before a child reaches his teens. In children under 5, convulsions similar to those of epilepsy are usually due to a sudden fever.

Judgment Upheld by High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed a ruling from Circuit Court that awarded $1,000 to a woman in a grocery company's promotion game.

The lower court had granted Mrs. W. B. Burleson a $1,000 judgment against the Kroger Co. store in Magnolia.

Mrs. Burleson said she was a winner of $1,000 in the store's "Double Sweepstakes Bingo" game.

She turned in a game card and her winning disc to the store manager at Magnolia, she said, and he told her "he would send it in and then they'd send me my money."

The card was sent to Little Rock, where the state manager of the company said he had determined that the disc had been altered.

Mrs. Burleson testified that she had not left the Magnolia store after she received the disc, but had taken it at once to the manager.

In other cases, the court:

— Affirmed the second-degree murder conviction and 15-year prison sentence given Edward Lee Jackson from Circuit Court in Pulaski County. Jackson was convicted in the shooting death of Charles Newman Edwards at a Little Rock drive-in restaurant Sept. 8, 1967.

— Affirmed Circuit Court in Pope County in its award of $16,400 for 60.8 acres taken from Joe Maus by the state Highway Commission for right of way. The commission had contended that the jury award was excessive.

— Affirmed the voluntary manslaughter conviction and two-year prison sentence of C. L. Sanders from Circuit Court in Newton County. Sanders was convicted in the shooting death of Hughlin Dean Raney Dec. 25, 1967.

Showers Are Seen for Arkansas

Warm temperatures with a chance of showers and thunderstorms are predicted for Arkansas through Tuesday with shower activity increasing midweek.

A large high pressure system over the eastern portion of the nation is dominating the state's weather picture, sending warm, moist Gulf air flowing northward over the area.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 63 degrees at El Dorado and Little Rock to 70 at Blytheville and Texarkana.

High temperatures Sunday ranged from 78 degrees at Harrison to 89 at Fort Smith.

Rainfall reported around the state in the 24-hour period that ended at 7:30 a.m. today included 0.19 inches at Little Rock and 0.75 at Pine Bluff.

Still a Fact That Girls Are More Eager to Go to the Altar

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Girls are still more eager than boys to go to the altar. A survey of teenagers found that 42 per cent of the girls, but only 14 per cent of the boys, expected to be married by their 21st birthday. Some 23 per cent of the boys—only 13 per cent of the girls—expressed doubt about ever getting married.

Speaking of weddings, here's how the desert Bedouins prepare a marital feast: Cooked eggs are stuffed in fish, the fish in cooked chickens, the chickens in a roasted sheep, the sheep in a whole roasted camel. What a crazy, mixed-up canape.

Ever wonder why a bird can fly and you can't? Well, besides their feathers, birds have another advantage. They have air sacs in their bones that connect with their lungs. When birds take a deep breath it helps make their bodies lighter.

If Peace Talks Fail Wallace Would Go Out After Military Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George C. Wallace says the United States should set a time limit on the Paris peace conference and go after military victory in Vietnam if negotiations fail to meet the deadline.

Wallace, the American independent party candidate for President, reiterated that he hopes for a negotiated settlement. But he said he is convinced the North Vietnamese are using the peace talks "for propaganda purposes and to rebuild that portion of North Vietnam we're not bombing now."

Asked how he would go about increasing pressure on the North Vietnamese to negotiate acceptable terms, the former Alabama governor replied:

"Well, of course, I don't want to talk about military strategy and tactics because I'm not a military man. But if I were president and peace talks had concluded and we don't have an honorable settlement by the time of the new administration, then I think we ought to set some time limit in the matter of negotiations, and then if they don't solve and settle the matter honorably, then we ought to win a military victory with conventional weapons and get out of Vietnam."

In outlining his views on Vietnam, Wallace said:

Bloodmobile Coming Back Nov. 4-5

Haskell Jones, Hempstead county Red Cross Blood Chairman, was informed by the state Blood Center that 35 pints of blood were obtained in the last bloodmobile visit on September 20th.

To make the 177 pints deficit that now exists the bloodmobile will come to Hope again on November 4 and 5. The bloodmobile will be located in the old Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, perhaps the most convenient location in the city.

Jones has asked 11 churches to supply women to work a donor sign-up station at Anderson-Frazier Insurance for one week prior to the visit. The donor sign-up center will operate for five and one half days and the churches have been asked to provide two to three women to work four and one half hours each day.

It is hoped that 250 to 300 persons will sign up during the week to give on one of the two days. To obtain the full privilege of the program one member of your family must give blood. However, blood for the people of the county will be available only as long as the county meets its quota.

Enemy Camp Raided by Assault Boats

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen riding Navy river assault boats raided a Viet Cong base camp in a swamp 38 miles southeast of Saigon Sunday and killed 25 enemy soldiers.

The five-hour fight was one of two sharp clashes reported in the Mekong Delta in which a total of 65 Viet Cong were reported killed and 12 captured.

The U.S. troops from the 9th Infantry Division also seized four persons suspected of being Viet Cong.

Fifty miles farther south, South Vietnamese troops reported 40 Viet Cong soldiers killed and 12 captured. Most of the enemy dead were credited to American helicopter gunships spewing rockets and machine-gun fire. Government casualties were reported as "extremely light."

A communique on the fighting around the Thuong Duc Special Forces camp in the foothills 30 miles southwest of Da Nang said U.S. Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen killed 76 North Vietnamese regulars in a string of clashes that ended Sunday.

In addition to the strikes near Thuong Duc, U.S. B52 bombers dropped about 350 tons of bombs

Nixon Plans Blitz Final Three Weeks

By FRANK GORMIER
Associated Press Writer
KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon promises to wind up his presidential campaign with "a three-week blitz" which he says will be designed to create "maximum momentum Nov. 5."

Nixon used the blitz phrase in an interview filmed last week for Dallas television station WFAA and made public here by his campaign staff Sunday night.

Nixon, spending a long weekend in a seaside home borrowed from Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., meets today with key aides— flown from New York—to plan the final stages of his campaign.

In his Dallas interview, the candidate was asked if perhaps his campaign had already reached its peak. He said:

"This year I have always been aiming this campaign for the last three weeks. We are going to have a three week blitz in which we cover every major state very heavily... with personal appearances, with television... just watch where we are on election day, because everything that we have planned is moving toward having our maximum momentum at Nov. 5."

Nixon, in a second interview with Dallas TV station KRLD, broadcast Sunday, said his campaign is going pretty much as planned and "that Mr. Humphrey hasn't gotten off the ground as much as I thought he

For First Time U.S. Returning Men to War for Involuntary Tours

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Army and Marines are sending thousands of men back for involuntary second tours to Vietnam.

The Army plans to return about 18,000 this year, the Marines some 6,000.

Until this year, the number of nonvolunteers ordered to a second round of war service has amounted only to a trickle.

But this has changed because of the length of the war, the high manpower turnover stemming from the one-year duty tour in Vietnam, and the tight supply of seasoned officers and noncommissioned officers.

Many career servicemen also are becoming eligible for involuntary second tours in Vietnam because they have been away from the war zone for at least two years.

The Army, Marines and Navy had set that as the hoped-for interval between tours, although some exceptions had been made in such scarce skills as helicopter pilots. The Air Force has had no specific interval policy, but has tried to give everybody a turn before tapping men for second tours.

The involuntary second tour trend will affect career servicemen rather than draftees because young men serving two-year draft hitch may not be returned to the war.

The Army contingent will include 4,950 officers mostly in the captain-major-lieutenant colonel bracket, and 12,900 enlisted men, chiefly senior noncommissioned officers.

The Marine returnees will include 1,000 officers and 5,000 enlisted men.

Court Agrees to Review Texas Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review a ruling that the Texas "disturbing the peace" law is an unconstitutional invasion of peaceful protest.

The court acted on an appeal by state Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin. It brings before the justices another important test of demonstrators' power.

A federal court in Austin, Tex., threw out the state law last April. The ruling grew out of a demonstration mounted by the University Committee to End the War in Vietnam when President Johnson visited Killeen, Tex., last December to speak at the dedication of Central Texas College.

Committee members and other protesters of U.S. war policy headed into a crowd that included

Space Ship Power Lost for Moment

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Flashing a hand-printed sign saying "Keep Those Cards and Letters Coming," three smiling Apollo 7 astronauts today performed the first live television show from inside a manned U.S. spaceship.

"It really looks good, I'm amazed," Donald K. Slayton, head of the astronaut office here, radioed to the crew.

The crew turned on the television camera at 10:44 a.m. (EDT) as Apollo 7 sped over the southern United States. Pictures at first were snowy, and Slayton reported the signal was "too weak to read."

After the 4½-pound camera warmed up for about two minutes, however, the astronauts could plainly be seen moving inside Apollo 7. The system required a scan converter to reproduce the pictures.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Warning lights flashed in the Apollo 7 and power was lost for a moment as the spaceship soared high over the Red Sea today. One of the three orbiting astronauts said it was a "very traumatic experience."

Mission Control officials attributed the trouble to a power surge. The power resumed when one of the astronauts flipped a reset switch.

The astronauts said they suspected the trouble that occurred shortly after 1 a.m. EDT resulted from a transient overload on spacecraft electrical systems, perhaps resulting when too many heaters or fans were turned on simultaneously.

Ground controllers, who searched for the cause said the problem was not serious and the astronauts, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele, and Walter Cunningham, a civilian, went ahead with plans for today's first television broadcast from a U.S. manned spaceship.

Schirra, who refused to switch on the camera during the first scheduled telecast Saturday, agreed to a TV transmission today as the capsules speeds over the United States. The TV view, to be relayed to home viewers by all three national television networks, was to last between 10 and 12 minutes and possibly show the trio housekeeping and eating.

Flight director Gene Franz said that between 40 and 50 per cent of Apollo 7's total flight objectives have been accomplished in the first quarter of the planned 11-day flight, and another 15 per cent will be obtained on re-entry, such as tests of the spacecraft heat shield.

The $55 million Apollo 7 spaceship, meanwhile, sped past the million-mile mark in its planned 4½-million-mile voyage scheduled to end Oct. 22 after 163 orbits of the globe.

Schirra, 45, who is making his last space flight, said his cold was clearing up and he was feeling better.

Parents to Talk With Teachers

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that all the Hope elementary schools will be dismissed Friday, October 18, for the purpose of Parent-Teacher conferences.

"We feel that these conferences will be of value to the parent, teacher and the child. We sincerely hope that the parents will take advantage of this opportunity to discuss with the teacher your child's progress," Mr. Jones stated.

Report cards will not be issued to first grade children until the end of the 12th week of school. However, parents of first grade children should also come to school and discuss your child's progress with his teacher.

A notice will be sent to each parent by your child stating the approximate time for the conference. If the assigned time is not convenient, please state the time that will be most convenient to you and return the notice to the school by your child.

Would Restore Rights and Law, Order

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
George C. Wallace—whose running mate heads for Vietnam tonight for a first hand report on the war—has unveiled a platform pledging states rights and efforts to restore law and order and settle the war.

The American Independent candidate said Sunday he will spell out his programs to replace "the fearful and inept leadership" of the two major parties p l a n k b y p l a n k in speeches between now and election day.

Wallace's running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, leaves on a four-day war-zone inspection trip in Vietnam after saying he "very definitely" favors resumption of wide-scale bombing of North Vietnam.

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, meanwhile, has pledged efforts to revitalize the North Atlantic alliance in Europe if elected, and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey has outlined anti-crime programs including a 10-fold increase in federal funds.

American Independent Wallace said the 13,000-word platform he released Sunday is aimed at restoring U.S. leadership in the world and providing Americans some hope of relief from "turmoil, frustration and confusion" which he blamed on both major parties.

Highlights included:
—A military victory in Vietnam with conventional weapons if peace negotiations fail; rid Defense Department of those who foster a "no-win" policy.
—Pursuit of peace through international cooperation and understanding to limits consistent with U.S. interests.

—Appointment of a tough attorney general; efforts to restore respect for the law and for enforcement officers, and a system of periodic reconfirmation of Supreme Court justices by the Senate and federal judges by the electorate to make them accountable for decisions.

—Restoration to state governments of powers "unlawfully seized by the federal government"—including control of public schools, fair-housing legislation and setting of voter qualifications for state and local elections.

—Benefits for persons over age 65 including a 60 per cent increase in Social Security with a $100 monthly minimum and an mal cost-of-living increases; uninterrupted nursing home care under medicare for persons whose chronic illnesses require it.

Wallace said in an interview with Associated Press editors he would set a time limit on Vietnam peace negotiations and seek military victory if no agreement were reached.

He told the AP editors local police should be permitted to use "whatever methods are necessary" to prevent or stop lawlessness and disorder. He said as president he would ask Congress to overturn two recent Supreme Court decisions on criminal suspects' rights which he said have helped increase the crime rate.

Former Air Force chief of staff LeMay planned to leave San Francisco about 10 p.m. tonight for Vietnam and return with his report before Wallace makes a nationwide television appearance next Sunday.

In advocating renewed wide-scale bombing of North Vietnam, LeMay said Sunday "we would have had a clear cut victory" if President Johnson had permitted bombing of the "right targets."

He said the right targets would have been those whose would have cut off supplies from the Port of Haiphong and from populated centers to South Vietnam.

LeMay was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press." Republican Nixon's pledge to seek revitalization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) if elected came in a paid speech broadcast by CBS radio Sunday night. He said he would seek new conversations with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Nixon said NATO "has lived from crisis to crisis" under the Johnson administration and said he is confident he could bring about "a shift of emphasis from crisis management to crisis prevention."

LeMay Due to Leave for War Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who declared over the weekend he favors resumption of full-scale bombing of North Vietnam, leaves tonight on a four-day war-zone inspection trip for presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

LeMay, after addressing the Women's National Press Club, will go to San Francisco first, leaving from there about 10 p.m. for the 23-hour flight to Saigon.

He is due to return Saturday in time to brief Wallace before the American Independent party candidate makes a nationwide television appearance the following day.

The former Air Force chief of staff, whom Wallace tapped as his running mate nearly two weeks ago, said Sunday he "very definitely" favors resuming bombing of North Vietnam on the scale it was done before March 31.

President Johnson restricted the bombing on that date to the Southern panhandle area of North Vietnam.

"We've set up all these sanctuaries . . . thereby telling the enemy that they're safe under those circumstances," LeMay said.

He also said he thinks the Port of Haiphong should be closed, but he left it up to the American military commander in South Vietnam how to do it.

LeMay plans to talk to American commanders in the war zone during his trip and also plans to question fighting men in the ranks to see how they feel about the war.

In Wallace's party platform, released Sunday, he urges patience in seeking a negotiated end to the war, but says if that doesn't work conventional military weapons should be used in an all-out effort for victory.

This is what he has been saying in campaign appearances across the country and LeMay has said he agrees.

In an interview last week, LeMay said he sees no place—Vietnam or elsewhere—where nuclear weapons should be used now. But he said there is a possibility they might be needed somewhere in the future.

The retired general was interviewed Sunday on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press."

Asked about the Paris peace talks, LeMay said "I firmly believe that we're not going to get anywhere at the negotiating table until the Communists are forced to do something positive in nature."

"I think we have to do a little more arm twisting," he said. ment after it had been agreed that Pinilla would become the guard's new commander.

Sources said that a few days after his inauguration, Arias met with Gen. Bolivar Vallarino, the guard commander and other top officers to discuss upcoming command changes.

It was agreed that Pinilla would move up to replace Vallarino and Col. Bolivar Urrutia would assume the No. 2 spot. But Thursday Arias announced Pinilla's retirement, after Pinilla had already sent out invitations to a party in honor of his being named guard commander.

Urrutia was named by Arias to command the guard. In the new government, Urrutia holds the No. 2 spot.

One source said the guard felt Arias was intent on creating a dictatorship. Other political leaders, including some who backed Arias, said they shared this feeling.

Says Army Is a Citadel of Racism

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP)—A Negro major charged on Sunday that the "American military services are the strongest citadel of racism on the face of the earth." Today he was transferred to a new job and said he was happy about the change.

The Army officer, Maj. Lavell Merritt of Chicago, said he had asked some time ago to be transferred from the training section of MACV, the Military Assistance Command Vietnam, because he said there was discrimination in the section. He said he was transferred today to MACV's operations section.

Merritt, 40, gave newsmen an eight-page statement Sunday in which he told of Negro officers laughing when a white officer "tells the funniest nigger story he knows."

"The black military officer group is the largest collection of identifiable accommodationists in America," he said. "The real tragedy, of course, was in our self-denial of manhood."

Sources at MACV headquarters said they understood Merritt had requested a transfer several weeks ago "because he was unhappy there." They said he became eligible for promotion to lieutenant colonel in 1966 but was passed over three times.

Merritt said he will complete 20 years in the Army in January "and I'll have to take my retirement then." Other officers said Merritt as a reserve officer is required to retire on completion of 20 years of service.

Merritt said that when he leaves the Army he plans to "go back to school and get a teaching certificate. The government is asking for teachers in the ghetto, and that's where I want to teach, in my ghetto in Chicago."

Strike Again Hits New York Schools

By BERNIE GOULD
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Federation of Teachers, saying some instructors had been threatened and terrorized in a predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican school district in Brooklyn, struck the nation's largest public school system today for the third time in six weeks.

The union's leader, Albert Shanker, said "this one could be a long one."

Shanker, who asked for and got a strike vote from his union membership Sunday night, told newsmen today that "acts of terrorism and violence have taken place" at Junior High School 271 in Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville community school district.

"A Negro assistant principal has been terrorized," Shanker said, "and teachers have been locked up in rooms and told they were going to be killed—and the mayor (John V. Lindsay) refused to do anything about it."

He said parents and other teachers "fear their schools are going to be next."

Three policemen were shot and wounded on duty outside a school in the district Sunday night, as union members were voting strike authorization several miles away in Manhattan.

The shots came from a tenement rooftop.

More than a dozen patrol cars searched the neighborhood in the racially tense district, and ordered a door-to-door, cellar-to-backyard search for a man of about 24 believed to be the sniper. He was the object of a city-wide alert.

The teacher strike in the nation's biggest public school system—1.1 million pupils—was the third unscheduled student holiday since the school year began last month.

After teachers' union president Albert Shanker told his members Sunday night that the Ocean Hill-Brownsville experiment in local school control was "a failure," teachers took their strike authorization vote.

Outside the meeting hall, about a dozen parents picketed with signs such as "Strike 3—You're Out."

nam and other campaign issues to a team of Associated Press editors, Wallace said he "would ask the Joint Chiefs of Staff what military action we should take" to defeat the enemy in Vietnam.

"I would lean heavily upon them and probably accept their advice," he said.

Wallace, interviewed Oct. 4 in Buffalo where he stopped overnight during a swing through seven key northern states, said ending the war and maintaining law and order at home were the major issues of the campaign.

He was asked how he would deal with four types of crime and disorder: Organized crime, petty crime—especially offenses by young people desperate for money to buy drugs, racial strife, including riots, and student demonstrations against the war.

Wallace emphasized that he thinks fighting crime and keeping the peace are primarily the responsibility of the states. But he claimed, nonetheless, that his election as president would bring about stronger law enforcement.

A victory at the polls, he said, would be "a moral boost to the policeman" and "a mandate to the officials back in the states to stand with their police and not handcuff them."

The candidate, blaming U.S. Supreme Court decisions limiting police powers in questioning suspects, said "it is almost impossible to convict anybody of any crime now from the highest to the lowest."

Asked if he would recommend to Congress that it overturn two of the court's most controversial rulings, the so-called Escobedo and Miranda decisions, Wallace replied:

"Yes, I would. I said that many times. I think those two decisions have helped bring about the increase in the crime rate and they really, in effect, made second class citizens of the policemen in our country."

The 1964 Escobedo decision, coupled with the Miranda ruling two years later, prevent the use of confessions as evidence unless the prosecutor can show that "effective steps were taken to secure the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination."

Among other things, the court held that a suspect has a right to remain silent, to have a lawyer present during police interrogation, and to be informed that any statement he makes can be used against him.

Other than seeking to overturn these decisions, Wallace said he had no specific plans for combating crime, but would urge more vigilance by the Justice Department, and call upon all law enforcement agencies to crack down on the traffic in marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

Asked how he would go about preventing or putting down racial disorders, including rioting and looting, Wallace said police should be "allowed to use whatever methods are necessary to prevent the breakdown of law and order and then if it does break down, they ought to be allowed to use whatever measures are necessary to stop it."

"I don't want to see a situation exist where people just go out and want to knock people in the head," he said. "However, sometimes when you knock a few in the head, it saves having to knock many in the head, and you're out."

I think strong measures in the beginning save lives."

Wallace was asked if he thought police should be allowed to shoot to stop looters and arsonists. "To stop a riot and looting and destruction of property and the committing of arson, yes," he said. "Yes, if that's the only way it can be done, yes."

While defending the right to demonstrate in opposition to the Vietnam war, Wallace reiterated his position that the federal government should "seek indictments against those who make speeches calling for Communist victory and those on college campuses, the few that do raise money and blood and clothes for the Communists"—action which he called "overt acts of treason."

Turning to one of his own major campaign themes, local control public institutions, Wallace said his proposed constitutional amendment to give the states absolute power over public schools would permit each state to choose the kind of school system it wanted.

"Including a racially-segregated one?"

"Including any kind they wanted to have," Wallace replied "including having one like they have in Washington, which is a jungle..."

Wallace wouldn't say whether his amendment would cover other local institutions, although he said "hospitals also ought to be exclusive of federal control." Neither would he say whether he'd ask Congress to repeal the civil rights act outlawing racial discrimination in public accommodations.

"I don't advocate that people not be public-accommodated at any place," said Wallace, "but I do object to government supervising the business and I don't think the law is good."

On another key issue, domestic inflation, Wallace said he would combat it by cutting government spending, specifically for foreign aid, welfare and poverty programs. But at the same time, he said he'd take funds now used for some poverty programs to finance a public works program and "employ able-bodied people in the building of highways and the building of streets, sewers, drainage systems which enhance wealth and property values and helps to create trade and commerce."

an untenable position, that as the polls show his lead dropping, he will eventually have to give in.

Humphrey's campaign schedule, presumably designed to enable him to bring his case before as many voters as possible, remain highly erratic.

There are sensible days like last Monday, when the vice president appeared before good crowds in three Pennsylvania industrial centers, and largely wasted ones like last Tuesday when he spent most of the day in Washington making a foreign policy speech before flying to Utica, N.Y. for an evening campaign speech.

This week, he opens his campaign with a trip tonight to Evansville, Ind., an area where there is considered to be strong support for third-party candidate George C. Wallace in a state Humphrey's top aides feel he has little chance to win.

Top advisers said Humphrey has emphasized the cities, rather than the suburbs, because he needs to bring out the vote in the most solidly Democratic areas. They also point out that the cities are where the television studios are. Humphrey needs all of the free interviews he can get because lack of funds is preventing a large-scale television advertising program.

But John F. Kennedy defeated Nixon in 1960 partially because his heavy emphasis on suburban appearances helped reduce normal Republican majorities there, enabling Democratic majorities in the cities to carry the large states.

Humphrey needs those big states even more than Kennedy did, because he lacks the Southern base of past Democratic campaigns.

This week, Humphrey has some suburban campaigning scheduled, in the St. Louis and Detroit areas and through Connecticut.

As for Humphrey himself, sometimes, such as at a Scranton, Pa., rally last Monday or in two New York speeches Thursday, he is vibrant, hard-hitting and wins enthusiastic reactions.

Monday, October 14, 1968

But in between those two efforts, among the best of the entire Humphrey campaign, he lost a predominantly youthful audience in Utica, N.Y., by talking too long, unloaded a 67-minute effort to a druggists convention in Boston and mesmerized New York's Liberal party by taking a brisk text and approximately doubling it in delivery.

Late in the week, illness forced Humphrey to cancel a trip to Cincinnati and public appearances at the Columbus Day parade and in New York's Negro and Puerto Rican ghettos.
